Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 18 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A bright morning, cloudy with rain later.

Today:
Chilly start in east with local fog patches clearing, but also some sunny spells. Thickening cloud and outbreaks of rain spreading eastwards by midday. Breezy on coasts. Very mild. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining cloudy this evening with outbreaks of rain for most, especially toward the south coast. Cloud thickening as further rain arrives from the southwest by the end of the night. Minimum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tuesday:
Patchy rain should clear through the morning, leaving a drier and brighter spell in the afternoon before further heavy rain arrives later. Very mild. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Unsettled and windy on Wednesday and Thursday, with spells of rain, these heavy at times. Temperatures starting well above average, becoming cool from Thursday. Brighter with patchy light showers Friday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.